VIDEO SERIES

Sometimes you want to game with your friends, but they are all busy. Sometimes you just want to hop online and show off your video game skills to strangers. Here are some tips to make sure you are staying safe in the wide world of gaming and keeping your personal information private!

1. Avoid usernames (gamertags) that give anything away about who you are.

2. Avoid answering personal questions when playing with people you don't know.

3. Avoid saying or typing any personal information in case a member of your party is streaming or recording the game.
